Special Accounts Risk Consultant
Field Services – Consultants
Federated Insurance®

Travis Antcliff is a Special Accounts Risk Consultant in the Field Services department for Federated Insurance. Travis is responsible for supporting the risk management needs for some of Federated's largest clients in Arizona, California, Colorado, Oregon, Nevada, New Mexico, Texas, Utah, and Washington.

The experience he has gained by working with multi-location accounts spanning several states has helped him to deepen his technical knowledge with respect to the unique exposures these accounts face. After becoming a Risk Consultant, he obtained the following designations: Associates Safety Professional (ASP) and Associate in Risk Management (ARM).

He currently lives in Phoenix, Arizona where he and his wife are active with their fitness and kids' activities. Their son and daughter are following in their footsteps with active lifestyles.
